PRIVACY

Skilven strives to provide a safe and secure experience to visitors to our Website. The only personally identifiable information that we collect is information that you voluntarily provide to us. Collection of personally identifiable information is necessary to place an order, request the status of an order, subscribe to a SKILVEN publication or service, participate in an on-line survey, request e-newsletter subscriptions and update account information. We use the personally identifiable information that you provide us to deliver products and services, maintain your account information and to personalize and enhance your visit to the Website by notifying you of products, services, and other information that we think may be of interest to you. The decision on whether to disclose personally identifiable information is up to you.

We may disclose personally identifiable information to third parties for the purpose of introducing you to third party services that we think might be of interest to you.

We also may gather certain non-personally identifiable information concerning subscriber or visitor use of the Website, such as the sections that you visit, the services that you access, the links that you use and the frequency of your visits. We use this non-personally identifiable information to provide a better and more efficient Website visit to you.

We also make use of current cookie technology to help our subscribers and visitors move more efficiently through our site. A cookie is information that is sent by our Website and stored on your computer's hard drive or temporarily in your computer's memory. When a subscriber or visitor signs onto our site, we pass cookies to that user's computer. We also use cookies to store our subscribers' names and passwords. Using your browser setting, you can set your computer to warn you each time a cookie is being sent, or you can elect to turn off all cookies. Please understand that if you turn off the cookies, you will not have access to certain features of the Website, and some of our Website services might not function properly.

You agree that Skilven may, from time to time, contact you by email, telephone or other acceptable communication media to send you Skilven products, product information or promotional materials. You can request at any time to unsubscribe from our e-newsletters or promotional emails by following the instructions in the applicable e-newsletter or e-mail. Or email to unsubscribe@skilven.com with details of which publications or promotions you wish to unsubscribe from.

If you do not wish to receive third party offers/promotions, you may opt-out at any time by mailing a written request to:
